Cluedunnit Kids: Overview

Thank you for your interest in Cluedunnit Kids. We hope that you find it to be a valuable learning experience which both you and your students enjoy.

Cluedunnit Kids gets Year 6 and Year 5/6 student teams to investigate a fictional criminal offence with the goal of identifying the prime suspect.

A brief of evidence (statements, photographs and scientific evidence) provides clues and students ask questions to get further evidence to identify the prime suspect and eliminate other suspects.

Each team plans, creates and submits their findings in a creative way of their choosing; usually an electronic or written format.

A judging panel reviews the top ten Cluedunnit Kids submissions using the following criteria; 1. Correct identification of suspect. 2. Supporting evidence. 3. Creativity.

Every student that has participated in Cluedunnit Kids receives a certificate of participation and a commemorative gift.

Cluedunnit Kids: Brief of Evidence

The brief of evidence is posted online and contains witness statements, photographs and scientific evidence.

This brief has been gathered by the fictional investigating police officer.

The brief contains critical information for the identification of the prime suspect. However, it would be wise not to jump to any conclusions before you have asked your six questions and have considered everything.

Even if you think you know who the prime suspect is from the brief of evidence you need to be able to prove it, so you are sure and have no real doubt, that the suspect committed the crime.

Cluedunnit Kids: Investigating and Collecting Evidence

As part of your investigation each school can, and should, ask up to 6 questions to gather more evidence and to eliminate other suspects.

Please note that each school can only ask 6 questions. If your school has more than one team, the school must share the 6 questions across the teams.

Make sure the questions that your school asks count. Make sure each question is directed to someone and is specific in what it asks.

The more questions a school asks, the more answers you will receive and the more evidence you will have to prove the case.

We strongly recommend you use all of your 6 questions to gather as much evidence as possible so that you can clearly identify the prime suspect and eliminate the other suspects.

Cluedunnit Kids: Six Questions

Each school can, and should, ask 6 questions relevant to the case. Schools running an in-school competition will have to share the questions across the in-school teams as there are only 6 questions per school. The questions will help the students get additional evidence, reports, statements, photos etc.

When asking questions, students must nominate a person who they feel can provide the information, rather than just asking for the detail they want.

The questions must also be specific in what they are asking.

EXAMPLE

“Did anyone see anything and what did they see?” (Not a good question. Two very broad questions are asked and this is not allowed. Also, the question is not directed to anyone.)

“Can you ask Constable Linus Uppe what Justin Case saw at midnight on the corner of Wright Place and Knot Court, please?” (Great question. Specific in what it asks and directed to a specific person.)

Cluedunnit Kids: Question Examples

Samples of poor questions are in orange. These are either too vague or don't indicate who is to provide the information. The correct style of questioning is in green. These are clear, specific and indicate who is to provide the information.

1. If there are any witnesses, what did they see or hear?

Can you ask Sergeant Justin Thyme for a witness statement from the waste recycling truck driver who was traveling on Surf Street, please?

2. Can we get any information on why Robyn Holden was absent from school?

Can you ask the school principal if any reason was given for Robyn Holden's absence from school on 14 March, please?

3. Whose footprints were outside the driver's side door?

Can you ask Sergeant Justin Thyme for the foot size of the suspects, please?

Please note, if students do not ask a clear specific question directed to a particular person, the Education Officers will be unable to answer the question and that question will be wasted.

Cluedunnit Kids: Creative Presentation

Using the evidence gathered after asking the 6 questions, each team then plans, creates and submits their findings in a creative way of their choosing. This is often in an electronic format (video interviews, video songs, video song + dance, animations, Powerpoint files, video re-enactment) or written format (board game, booklet, comic, poster).

Your presentation will identify the prime suspect with supporting evidence as well as details on how the other suspects have been eliminated.

Each school can only submit one entry for judging. Schools that have more than one team must run an in-school competition and the winning entry of the in-school competition is then submitted for judging.

Encourage your students to be creative whilst incorporating all of the evidence they have collected.

It is best to limit the presentation to a maximum of 5mins.

Teachers should remind the students that the prime suspect is thought to be innocent until proven guilty. The presumption of innocence is an essential legal principle in Australia.

The students may want to include details on what the prime suspect would be charged with and an appropriate penalty.

Cluedunnit Kids: Judging Criteria

Each submission is judged on the following criteria:

- Correct identification of suspect – up to 2 points
- Supporting evidence – up to 10 points
- Creativity – up to 10 points

The Cluedunnit Kids judging criteria is heavily weighted to supporting evidence and creativity as the overwhelming majority of teams correctly identify the prime suspect.

It is expected that the submissions are the Year 6 or Year 5/6 students' work with teachers and/or older students providing limited assistance and direction.

The judging panel members will include:

- A representative from the Children's Court of WA
- The Chief Magistrate of Western Australia
- A Western Australian Police Officer
- A lawyer from Legal Aid WA
- A representative from Curtin University Law School

Feedback from the judging panel on submissions is not provided and the judging panel's decisions are final.

Cluedunnit Kids: FAQs

How long does Cluedunnit Kids last?

The brief of evidence is posted online in late February. Each school can, and should, ask a total of 6 questions prior to completing their submission. All submissions must be received by the Francis Burt Law Education Programme no later than 4pm on the set date in May.

Can we use the internet for research?

Yes, you will find some helpful websites at the back of this document .

Does the team have to ask questions?

No, but the team will be disadvantaged if they don't as more clues will be obtained if the right questions are asked.

Do team leaders have extra responsibilities?

Yes. Team leaders must make sure questions are emailed to the Education Officers at schools@lawsocietywa.asn.au. They can also telephone us with questions on (08) 9324 8686. Remember, you can only ask 6 questions per school, so if your school is running an in-school competition you will have to share the questions across the in-school teams.

If the team's creative presentation is in a digital format (PowerPoint, video etc), please make sure you allow enough time to either post your submission to reach us by no later than 4pm of the closing date for submissions in May or alternatively use Dropbox to upload your submission online and send us the link. Our judges have very tight schedules and late entries cannot be accepted.

Cluedunnit Kids: Extra Information About The Law

The next slides provide extra information about the law, the courts and legal terms that may help you when investigating and creating your Cluedunnit Kids submission.

The last slide has links to some online resources which may be useful.

Cluedunnit Kids: Legal Principles

Presumption of innocence: Everyone accused of a crime is thought to be innocent until proven guilty.

Burden of proof: The prosecution has the responsibility to, and must, prove that the accused person is guilty.

Standard of proof: The level of proof required to find a person guilty of a crime is beyond reasonable doubt. In every day language, this means that after hearing all of the evidence you are sure that the person did the crime and you have no real doubts in your mind that the accused did it.

Cluedunnit Kids: Magistrates Court

The types of criminal matters in Cluedunnit Kids would be heard in the Magistrates Court of Western Australia if the accused was an adult. The maximum penalty for a Magistrates Court matter is up to 3 years imprisonment. Types of matters heard by the Magistrates Court include road traffic matters, stealing under $50,000, disorderly conduct, minor assaults and lots of others.

In the average year, more than 95% of all criminal matters in WA are heard by the Magistrates Court.

The judicial officer in the Magistrates Court is a Magistrate who is referred to as “Your Honour”. Magistrates do not wear robes or wigs.

The gavel (wooden hammer) has never been used in West Australian or Australian courts.

Remember that the prime suspect is thought to be innocent until proven guilty.

Students may want to include what the prime suspect would be charged with and *an appropriate penalty in their presentation

Cluedunnit Kids: Children's Court

If the accused in a Cluedunnit Kids scenario is aged 10 to 17 years of age, the criminal matter would be heard in the Children's Court of Western Australia.

The Children's Court also deals with child protection and care applications for children under the age of 18.

The focus of the Children's Court in criminal matters is to ensure the fair treatment of children who have, or are alleged to have committed offences. The focus of the Children's Court in protection and care proceedings is to promote the wellbeing of children and to ensure that the children are protected from harm.

Magistrates are responsible for the less serious criminal matters in the Children's Court. The President of the Children's Court is responsible for the more serious criminal matters. The President and Children's Court Magistrates are referred to as "Your Honour". The President and the Magistrates in the Children's Court do not wear robes or wigs. The jury system does not exist in the Children's Court.

The gavel (wooden hammer) has never been used in West Australian or Australian courts.

Remember that the prime suspect is thought to be innocent until proven guilty.

Students may want to include what the prime suspect would be charged with and an appropriate penalty in their presentation

Cluedunnit Kids: Legal Terms

BRIEF OF EVIDENCE: The documents, including statements and photographs, that the police prosecutor will rely on in a case against a person charged with a criminal offence.

CHARGE: When the police formally accuse a person of committing a criminal offence.

CHILDREN'S COURT: The Court in Western Australia that deals with criminal charges against youth aged 10 to 17. This court also deals with child protection and care applications for children under the age of 18.

DEFENCE LAWYER: The lawyer who represents the accused person in a criminal matter. This lawyer aims to create doubt that the accused did the crime.

EVIDENCE: Verbal or written statements of witnesses, documents and other items used to support a party's case in court.

MAGISTRATES COURT: A lower court in WA, which has the jurisdiction to hear less serious criminal and civil matters.

MAGISTRATE: A judicial officer appointed to hear and determine civil and criminal matters in the Magistrates Court.

POLICE PROSECUTOR: A specially trained police officer appearing in court representing the police in relation to criminal cases.

SENTENCE: An order made to impose a penalty to a person after they have been found guilty of an offence or entered a plea of guilty to an offence.

Cluedunnit Kids: Education

Schools are encouraged to take part in a Francis Burt Law Education Programme tour to view a Magistrates Court in session and/or participate in a mock trial. You will need to contact us to arrange a suitable time - Phone: (08) 9324 8686 or Email: schools@lawsocietywa.asn.au

The Francis Burt Law Education Programme has the Lawyer Visits to Schools Network . Teachers can arrange to have a lawyer talk to your students at the school free of charge.

Schools outside the Perth metropolitan area can also contact their nearest Magistrates Court for information regarding court tours and school visits.
